

How did you learn Danish?

In a language school in Odense. It takes two years.

But I do not speak Danish very well.

I think it's good.

Thanks!

What was it like at the language school?

I got many friends from other countries in the world.

And our teacher is very kind.

Did you speak with one another there?

Yes, it was very good and very cosy.

What was it like then coming here?

Here? Most students are Danes.

And I'm afraid of speaking with Danes because of my Danish.

Don't they talk so much with you?

No!

What is it like then? Do you walk around alone or what?

Yes, but my class team has two more students from abroad.

One from Iceland, and we are good friends.

And one from Poland - yes, also a girl.

Which course are you taking here?

Multimedia Designer.

What do you do there?

We create web pages and graphic items.

Is there something in particular that you attach great importance to when you create these web pages?

Yes, Flash.

Yes, mostly in Flash.

I like Danish design because I find it very smart.

It is not like Chinese design.

Because in my opinion Danish design is REAL design.

Do you think you can use it in Shanghai?

Yes, maybe.

I don't know for sure.

What do you put an emphasis on in China when looking at a web page?

Mostly economics.

What it costs to produce, or..?

Yes, they only spend very little time on design.

The study environment in Denmark is probably very different from China?

Yes, very different!

I remember we had two exams every week when I was in Shanghai.

Here in Denmark I think that is a lot – yes here there are fewer exams.

What about the individual study day? I guess that is also different.

Yes, here the school is from eight or nine till two or three in the afternoon.

In China we started at seven in the morning and finished at four or five in the afternoon.

So we were in school all the time, yes, the whole day.

Can you decide for yourself when you go to school here?

No, - Here in Denmark? Yes, we can.

If it is raining then only few students come.

That must be different in China?

Yes, there we must be in school all day.
